What has been particularly effective about Myles Ellis's approach to teaching in this course?

- Myles Ellis constantly answered my questions regarding problem sets both in office hours and by email. He always got back to me quickly, and in great detail.
- Clear and descriptive.
- I really appreciated all of Myles' effort and help! He was very responsive and always ready to help!

- Myles has been incredible to work with. He offered valuable feedback and was responsive to questions.
- Myles was always available, very approachable, and helped walk you through problems until you understood.
- Myles did his best, especially considering he was charged with writing solutions for problem sets that were--at times--fraught with errors. He was available and responsive when I asked to meet outside of regular office hours. A for effort.
- He's the best. Available, thoughtful and respectful. Also, super smart.
- Myles was a great TA and communicator. He was very much on-top of the content and course schedule and also seemed to have a genuine interest in the topic. Office hours were very helpful and he made them feel very accessible.
- willingness to sit down and think through problem with you
- Myles was great-- very responsive, attentive, and helpful!
- one of the most helpful and kind teaching assistants in my brown education
- He was always there to help with the problem sets or reflections
- Always made himself available.
- Myles was incredibly supportive of students throughout the course.

What specific advice would you have for Myles Ellis about changes that would enhance your learning?

- N/A
- None.
- n/a
- Nothing - everything was great.
- Having solutions completed ahead of his OH (and cross-checking them with Prof. Kwon) is a must. It would save both himself and his students hours of work.
- None, he's perfect.
- I think having office hours closer to the due dates of the problem sets would have been helpful but it was also definitely better for my own learning to be forced to start them earlier.
